

Tell Pharmacists: If You Don't Respect My Choices, You Don't Deserve My Business!

The decision of whether to get pregnant is one that should be made by a woman—not by other people who want to impose their beliefs on her. But a growing number of pharmacists are refusing to fill women's legally prescribed birth control prescriptions—and now there is one in Virginia. Send a message that you won't support pharmacists who impose their own beliefs on women seeking access to contraception

We, the undersigned, refuse to patron pharmacies that will not stock and fill prescriptions for birth control.
